

Ember Stomp 2024 Unites the Community

Who knew adapting to wildfire could be so much fun!

We are thrilled and energized by this year's turnout at Ember Stomp, which brought thousands from Marin and beyond to the Marin County Fairgrounds on Sept. 7th. for a day of fun and valuable wildfire education.

This year's festival was a show of force among all the fire professionals, community agencies, organizations, and private partners committed to keeping Marin safe. Ember Stomp highlighted the importance of our collective readiness and collaboration. We hope that the diverse demonstrations, exhibits, and vendors provided residents with valuable insights and practical tools to enhance your wildfire preparedness.

Adapting to wildfire threats has become increasingly crucial across California. Marin is leading the way, connecting residents with essential resources and support. The strong turnout on Saturday is a promising sign of our community's commitment to this cause.

Together, we are not just adapting; we are evolving, innovating, and collaborating to build a more resilient Marin. Thank you for being a part of this important effort.
